

ISO ENERGY - Bring the warmth of Sweden into the heart of your UK home...

Sweden has embraced sustainable energy for over 30 years with 97% of new builds installing heat pumps as standard. The benefits are considerable and with the expertise of ISO Energy, you can now reap its rewards here in the UK.

Sustainable energy utilises a natural, renewable energy resource, thus reducing our dependency on fossil fuels and in turn reducing our carbon emissions. However, it also allows us to tap into a far more efficient and therefore cost effective way to heat and power our domestic and commercial properties. Heat Pumps in particular, offer one of the most effective methods of utilising renewable energy. For every Kw of electricity used, a well configured heat pump will generate between 4 and 6 Kw of usable heat making it by far the most efficient way of heating a house. Contrary to popular belief, heat pumps are not only the preserve of new builds, far from it. ISO Energy have developed an innovative and proven method of integrating heat pumps into country houses and running the heat through the existing radiator system resulting in a potential 70 % reduction in energy costs when compared to oil or LPG. A Swedish heat pump was installed into the 16th century timber framed former coaching Inn of Lotta Sjoqvist and her family two years ago and they have seen savings of around £4,000 per year on their fuel bills. The UK has lagged far behind Sweden in harnessing renewable energy. However, ISO Energy are re-addressing this balance by offering expert consultancy, supply and installation of Sustainable Energy systems for both new build and period properties and the commercial sector.

FOREX - enters the UK Bureau de Change market

The Nordic market leader FOREX puts service and knowledge as top priorities when entering the UK market.

The secret behind FOREX' success on the Nordic market is simple, and can be summarised in three words; service, knowledge and accessibility. Regardless of what FOREX branch they choose our customers know they will be met by professional staff helping them choose the right currency for all situations based on a knowledge accumulated since 1965. Our big branches are open seven days a week and our aim is to always be close to our customers. Our number of branches reaches beyond 90 today and is rapidly expanding. These three key words together with a feeling of being safe when using FOREX is often more valued by our customers than the fact that we have the most competitive rates on the market, as well as over 70 currencies in stock.

Our new branch at 107 Baker Street will be the first in the UK, but our vision is to open several stores in the London area as well as expand to the rest of the country. We start our entrance to the UK market as a pure Bureau de Change business but will gradually increase the portfolio with our very competitive bank products.

Welcome to FOREX at 107 Baker Street, London.
